A KLONDIKER.

Who Has Cleaned Up a Thousand a Month for Twenty Months.
The happiest man on the local train today was L. D. Carle, bound for his home at Roseburg after a 20 months' stay in the Klondike mines. He looked fat and rosy, was dressed in a new suit of clothes and wore some valuable stones and jewelry set in the gold of his own digging.
He left Gold Hill, 16 miles from Dawson, Sept. 4, coming out in 15 days over the railroad route. He cleaned up about $20,000 during his stay, $11,000 in dust going just ahead of him for exhibition in the First National bank of Roseburg, in which he is a stock holder.
He has a beautiful collection of nuggets, some choice ones worked up into jewelry for his wife, daughter and granddaughter.
Mr. Carle is well known as an insurance solicitor in Southern Oregon. He helped organize the Farmers Ins. Co., of Albany, and was connected with the State Ins. Co., of Salem when it was destroyed. He recently met John Singleton and Ernest Wagner of Salem and says they own some good mining claims.
Mr. Carle says the Gold Hill claims have not been one-sixth worked. The Klondike district yielded revenue of about $17,000,000 gold taken out this year, and it is estimated that revenue is collected on about one-fourth of all that comes out. He asked a great many how long the mines in that part of Alaska would be worked with profit and the general impression is about four years.

He came out with one of the Berry Bros., who brought out 2200 pounds of dust. Dawson, Louse town and vicinity has 35,000 population and there is ample provision for all against suffering. Two private schools run this summer, tuition $10 a month for children. The Canadians propose to start a public school this winter if there are enough children.
There are children coming in via every steamer.

Comes to Oregon.
Mrs. Grace Albright and little son arrived today for a visit to Dr. Cathey, her uncle at Woodburn. Mrs. Albright is a prominent osteopathic physician from Fowler, Ind., and will locate at Portland. She is a graduate of the new school of non-medical treatment of diseases that has become quite popular in the east, and that is curing many hitherto considered incurable diseases and deformities. Mrs. Albright, who is as bright as her name, says of the new system:
"It is based upon the proposition that man's body is a machine and that pain and disease are simply the creaking and abnormal product of the running of the disordered mechanism of the body, needing a machinist to fix and adjust them, just as he would any other machine.
With this done, the creaking will cease, normal smooth running will be resumed and the pain and disease are gone. The hands are the only tools required; no instruments, no knife, no drugs, no faith needed."
"It is not massage or Swedish movement, electricity or magnetism; clair-voyance or occultism; but plain, common sense anatomical engineering."

The Gordon Highlander.
England is making up her army in South Africa of such veteran troops as the Gordon Highlanders, the Second battalion of whom sailed from Bombay on Saturday. "Gordon" almost stands as a generic name for gallantry, and all who come under its influence are quickly affected by its characteristic spirit of dare-devilry. The storming of Bargal ridge during the Indian uprising two years ago is well remembered, and in many an equally thrilling venture the gallant Gordons have played a part—notably in India, where they have been known since the days of the terrible Tippoo, more than a century ago, and where the Victoria Crosses held by them have been won. The clan Gordon have been fighters all their days. Colonel Dick-Cuningham, commander of the Second battalion, won the Victoria Cross by a display of heroism which inspired the Gordons to a victorious charge near Cabul in 1878.

Three Old Sports.
R. C. Shelton and his two dogs went after "Chinas" Sunday morning and succeeded in bagging eight fine birds in about an hour. Mr. Shelton says the birds are in the best condition this year that he has ever seen them, the nest being very white and tender.

DEWEY ARRIVED
IN WASHINGTON

The Admiral was 'Ahead of Time
As Usual and Thus Avoided the Rush
When the train which carried Dewey to Washington had reached the border of the district of Columbia a committee presented the admiral with the freedom of the city. Admiral Dewey's reply was as brief and characteristic as all of his other speeches have been:
"I want to thank you very much, my friends," he said, "for this testimonial of your regard. It is true that, as long as I live, and I hope to live a long time (cheers), I intend to live in Washington.
I thank you again for this expression." Then dropping the tone of formality in which this had been uttered, he extended his hands and said heartily:
"Now I want to see my friends. Charlie, old boy, how are you?" and he grasped C. C. Glover by the hand and went through the party, shaking the hands of all who were within reach.
Dewey was escorted to the White House and, after meeting the president president he viewed the parade from the stand on Pennsylvania avenue. It was 9 o'clock when the fatigue of the day's demonstrations reached the residence of Mrs.
Washington McLean, the mother of the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio.

Mrs. McLean welcomed the admiral and turned over the house to him for his use during his stay in Washington.
Mrs. McLean and the members of the family then left, going to her country residence, Beauvoir, in the suburbs of Washington.
The admiral had arrived sooner than was expected, and before a crowd had collected. Presently the people surged in on all sides, and for some time would not believe the officer, who said the admiral was inside. A hand came up and serenaded the admiral, crowd cheered and cheered and finally Dewey appeared at the window and bowed his acknowledgments. Cries of "speech," "speech," were heard on every side, but met with no response.
Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock, and then the admiral retired. The crowds lingered about the house for some time.

KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE
By Associated Press to the Journal.
GRANTS PASS, Or., Oct. 3.—E. L.
Moon, electrician and light man in the employ of the Grants Pass Water, Light & Power company, was killed shortly before 6 o'clock last evening, while working on some new wire, being replaced on account of the recent fire. A message had been sent to the electrician not to turn on the current until 6 o'clock, but it did not reach him before the regular time for turning on the lights. After receiving the shock, Moon hung for an instant on the crossbeam, and then fell foremost to the street, a distance of fully 30 feet. Medical aid was immediately called, but he was beyond all help. Mr. Moon had lived in Grants Pass for 12 years. He was about 45 years of age, and left a wife and son of 18 years. He was a member of the A.
O. U. W. The lodge has already taken charge of the remains.

Shot by a Mexican.
By Associated Press to the Journal.
EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 3.—Ed O'Connor, a prominent merchant, was in a saloon when four drunken Mexicans entered. One insolently brushed against O'Connor, who promptly knocked him down. A shot was fired and O'Connor fell, wounded in the head.
The Mexican who is supposed to have fired the shot, ran from the saloon and was shot at five times by a policeman, but escaped. If captured he will be lynched. Four other Mexicans have been arrested.

Pardoned.
Governor Geier today pardoned Chas.
Montgomery, who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for complicity in the Ladd grave robbery at Portland.
He had served a year in the Portland jail and a year and four months in the state prison, and was no doubt entitled to his liberty.

Kidnapped.

home at Marion, Ind., for some time, was found here in a pitiable condition and almost starved. He had been kidnapped by four tramps who were holding him for a reward. They had stood guard over him constantly, but all four went to sleep when the boy escaped.

Sad News for a Volunteer.
By Associated Press to the Journal.
MEXICO, Ind., Oct. 3.—Francis Stoker, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, dropped dead Sunday evening. His son, Everett, now coming home from the Philippines, will learn of his father's death and that of his betrothed, Miss Edna Fogel, at Chicago, simultaneously.

That Joyful Feeling.

ed health and strength and internal cleanness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few old-time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never Crossing the Rockies.

The most delightful ride across the continent is through Utah and Colorado, over what is known as "The Scenic Route of the World." It matters not at what season of the year the trip is made, at no time does the scenery grow monotonous. It is an ever changing panorama of the beauties of nature.
One moment you are passing through gorges walled in by rocks thousands of feet high and the next you are above the snow line, skirting peaks that tower above you until they seem almost to reach the sky. One of the characteristics of the Colorado climate is that the extremes of temperature are never met with. It is neither so cold in winter nor warm in summer, as upon the lines of railways, which cross the deserts and plains. The traveler over the Rio Grande Western also has the privilege of a stopover, if he so elects at Salt Lake City, or anywhere between Ogden and Denver, on all classes of tickets.
